

Manning, Maurice
Paramount Pic Coes.
35 W. 45th St. JU 2-4500

12th Floor

THE AMERICAN BEHAVIORAL SCIENTIST

ALFRED DE GRAZIA,
Editor

Post Office Box 294
Princeton, New Jersey, U.S.A.

Phone: WALnut 4-4681

Script: The Anomie of Karnig Nalbandian

Each human ~~mind~~ is the universe....

Often it is a universe unexplored, inarticulate, ~~and~~ formless.

Often it is wasteland, where a few acres of habit are scratched out.

(GONG)

But sometimes, curiously, a flower grows in the wasteland.

~~It~~
And blossoms

and

The-mind embraces the world

it is an artistic

And sometimes/~~the flower, is the mind of an artist-~~

The mind bursts forth in its glory

Creating a magic universe

with good in its own light

and its own shadows of evil

~~in-his-room-in Providence,~~

For Karnig Nalbandian, the etcher, it is a universe of order and chaos

In his room in Providence, Rhode Island, he taught himself to draw and then to etch.

He grew, and lived, and shaped a world in images as small as a hand and created a universe of men where no rule is the rule ---

His Anomie..

---

His man in the wolf of man.

His Nature is pure order.

In Her alone can he live.

A MONTHLY REVIEW OF SOCIAL SCIENCE NEWS, THEORIES, AND RESEARCH
FOR SOCIAL SCIENTISTS, EDUCATORS, OFFICIALS, LIBRARIANS, R & D STAFFS, FOUNDATION OFFICERS, AND SOCIAL SCIENCE STUDENTS.